THE MUSEUM

Explore the world's largest publicly held collection of quilts, in the heart of Lincoln, Nebraska's historic East Campus neighborhood.

The world-class International Quilt Study Center & Museum features quilts from more than 20 countries, including significant collections of African American and Pennsylvania Amish quilts, contemporary studio quilts, as well as antique quilts spanning four centuries.

The Museum features activities for enthusiasts and newcomers of all ages, including:

- Rotating exhibitions designed to tell the stories of quilts and quilters from around the world.
- A virtual gallery, which allows visitors to share and record their personal quilt stories, design their own quilt patterns, and create and curate digital exhibitions.
- Audio tours of the Museum itself, a state-of-the-art “green” building.
- Easy walking access to UNL East Campus treats and attractions.
